Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Barkeley, of Phoenix, arrived in Prescott a few days since to remain during the summer. They are stopping with Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Wright.

The Prescott Electric company placed a few telephones for the use of the public on a tree on the north side of the plaza after the fire. This company has used every exertion to furnish the greatest convenience to the public during the brief period of chaos which prevailed after the fire.

Chaplain Scott has returned from a trip to the Salt River valley and says the farmers are greatly rejoiced over the recent rains.

Ed. Voigtlander, located on the plaza between Cook's jewelry store and Shepard & Kastner's store. He has a full line of suitings and is ready for business.

Mrs. Ed. Block and son and daughter, Master Gary Block and little Miss Block returned on Saturday from their visit east. Their visit was somewhat abbreviated by the fire.

Miss Ella Hunter will leave on Tuesday for her former home in Missouri, to remain. On account of the recent fire very many of her pupils have been compelled to abandon their music lessons.

Judge R. E. Sloan has joined the industrial procession by commencing the erection of a fine new residence in East Prescott. Workmen commenced excavating last week for the foundation.

Mrs. Harry Heap came up from Phoenix on Saturday to spend the summer in Prescott. Her sister, Miss Gertrude Wells, who had been visiting with her for a month, returned with her.

Senator W. A. Clark of Montana, who has been several days on a visit to his mother and brother, left last night for New York on his way to Europe. He made it a special matter, while here, to avoid reporters.—L. A. Herald.

The buildings on the lots owned by F. M. Murphy on the corner of Cortez and Gurley streets will be removed shortly and a handsome brick structure three or four stories high will be erected there.

S. J. Wright, of Paris, Texas, who has been out in the country for a week on mining business, returned to Prescott on Sunday. After spending a day or two here he will return to his home at the above place.

The Journal-Miner is located on the first floor of the firemen's headquarters building in the room formerly occupied by the Dudes hose company and the Hook and Ladder company.

Mrs. R. R. Crapo, of Skull valley, who owned two nice dwelling houses on north Montezuma street, both of which went up in smoke, was in Prescott Saturday settling up insurance matters.

Misses, Ethel and Gallagher, of Phoenix, two of the best known builders and contractors in Arizona, are in Prescott with a view of taking a hand in the building boom that is now on in this city.

Chaplain Scott, who spent several days at his Scottsdale ranch in the Salt River valley, returned to Prescott, the last of the week and reports everybody happy as a result of the recent heavy rains in the valley.

R. H. Burnister were an unusually happy smile on Friday morning. It was occasioned by the appearance of a boy at the Burnister residence. Mother and child doing well, father happy, and Grandpa Burnister jubilant.

By way of a coincidence, but unfortunately a disastrous one, the Brisley drug company is still on the corner. They are prepared, too, to meet the wants of the afflicted, and carry out their business principles to the letter as before.

Mrs. B. B. Crapo, of Skull valley, who owned two nice residences on north Montezuma street, which were destroyed by the late blaze, came up Friday afternoon to be present at the adjustment of her losses. She returned home Saturday evening.

Misses, Ethel and Gallagher, well known contractors and builders, of Phoenix, are in Prescott and will take a hand in the building boom that is now on. This firm is well known throughout the territory as among the leading firms in that line.

C. W. Fleming, of the American Type Foundry company left on Saturday for his home in Los Angeles, after taking an order from the Journal-Miner for a complete newspaper plant and large order from the Courier for type and machinery.

Some ten or twelve special fire insurance agents are in town adjusting the losses by the recent fire. Where the losses are small and clear proofs are made, a check is drawn in payment of the claim. In this way a large number of the cases have been disposed of.

Workmen are busy repairing the ruins of the Bank of Arizona's new building adjoining the Prescott house. The walls are in fairly good condition and just as soon as it can be gotten in condition San Hill will occupy it with his hardware store until he can complete his building.

A. D. Barnhart, the assayer, left for Denver last week to purchase a new assaying outfit to take the place of the one destroyed by the fire. He will take advantage of the opportunity by visiting his relatives and will remain until order is somewhat restored out of the mass of chaos left by the fire.

Boyer Bros., who recently purchased the Thorbeck bakery, and who lost their all in the fire, left on Thursday for their former home at Buchanan, Michigan. They came here for the benefit of the health of one of them, and were unfortunately enough to invest their little savings only to have it consumed in the fire.

The editor of the Journal-Miner feels deeply grateful to the many brethren of the press who sent messages of sympathy and offers of assistance during the past week. Among those who tendered their plants at the disposal of this paper were the Phoenix Republican, the Phoenix Gazette, the Jerome Reporter and the Williams News.

The 50,000-gallon water tank of the S. F. & P. railroad company at Phoenix exploded last Friday morning after a heavy rain storm there. The tank was full of water at the time, which was scattered in every direction. Every hoop on the tank broke and pieces of the wood work were thrown a distance of 100 feet away from the tank.

The way to decline an office is to decline it. Governor Hill had no difficulty in making himself understood. But then, Hill, unlike Roosevelt, was not the only possible candidate who could offer any chance of pulling the "Plumstaff Gem."—Hill, like Roosevelt, knew that no candidate on the ticket, with Bryan, could have any hopes of pulling the latter through and accordingly refused to make a voluntary sacrifice of himself.

Abraham Le Pari, a young man 21 years of age, died on Saturday, July 21, of typhoid pneumonia. Mr. Le Pari was a son of Mr. Le Pari, the barber on Gurley street. He was an exceptionally bright young man, and the family contemplated leaving shortly for Paris.

The United States grand jury has completed its labors. Owing to the condition which the United States attorney and United States marshal had the business in, the grand jury was able to make rapid progress with its duties. They returned their indictments within as many hours after they were impaneled.

M. Hughes and Wm. Griffiths, proprietors of the Standard Iron Works, of Phoenix, came up yesterday afternoon and are looking over the ruins with a view to purchasing the old cast iron and shipping it to their foundry in Phoenix. They estimate that there is enough in sight to make five or six carloads.

Ed. Shumate returned from California with a quick-step pace, and since then has been industriously engaged on the plaza in re-establishing his popular parlors and tobacco house along with the rest of 'em. His place is daily assuming its old time inviting appearance and is already a popular center and if anything, more attractive than before.

The alacrity with which many of the patrons of the Journal-Miner have responded to its request for remittances of amounts due on subscriptions, and otherwise has been most gratifying and cheering. A friend in time of need is a friend indeed, and the friends who have thus remembered us and the other ones who will do so in the future will certainly earn our lasting gratitude.

M. Hughes and Wm. Griffiths, proprietors of the Standard Iron Works of Phoenix, arrived on Sunday afternoon's train from Phoenix and are looking over the burned district with a view to purchasing the old cast iron that remains in the ruins. They estimate that about four or five carloads may be gathered up. They will ship the iron they purchased to their foundry and iron works in Phoenix.

Wm. Nelson was awarded the recent contract for supplying the United Verde Copper company with stulls. He returned Saturday evening from a visit to Coconino county where he bought ten sections of timber land from the lumber company there. Mr. Nelson is an indefatigable worker and their contract will occupy his time for a year or more.

Jerome was visited on Saturday by a regular cloudburst. The water poured down the main street of the town to the depth of fully a foot, or a foot and a half. The water came down the mountain sides in perfect torrents, and centering in the gulch where the smelter stands, they were compelled to close the latter for a short time, until the flood subsided.

Among the unfortunate ones in Pekin whose fate is yet a matter of uncertainty is Miss Juliet Bredon, of San Francisco, a class mate of Mrs. Fen S. Hildreth at Irving institute. The two ladies graduated from the above institution in the same class in 1897 and shortly after graduation Miss Bredon accompanied her father and mother to Pekin, to which place Mr. Bredon had been appointed consul.

Geo. H. Prince, brother of Chief of Police S. A. Prince, who came to Prescott a couple of months ago, from St. Joseph, Missouri, for the benefit of his health, and who went to Phoenix some time ago, died there on Thursday evening, July 19. He was at work up to within a few hours of his death. His remains were shipped on Saturday to St. Joseph for burial. He leaves a wife and three daughters in the latter place.

Barney Chalmers was sent to the county jail on Saturday, for ninety days for stealing on the night of the fire. It is alleged that Chalmers hired a wagon and hauled a lot of goods away. His partner, W. T. Smith, pleaded guilty on Monday and was sent up for thirty days. Chalmers is the man who was arrested and taken back to Kansas some time ago on a charge of murder, but who was released from custody there.

R. H. Burnister & Sons Co. are as usual imbued with the same spirit of energy and accommodation as ever and have moved a well selected stock of goods in the fancy grocery and other lines, to the plaza, in order to be in commercial harmony with the drift of the tide as well as conveniently located for their friends and patrons. The head of this house is favorably known to a larger purchasing element in Yavapai county, probably, than any other individual merchant in his line, and although among the heavy losers by fire, his characteristics are so well established and his fidelity is so firm for Yavapai that it is gratifying to know this house, with that of others, is just as firm as ever in its faithful regard of our community and will stand by and up for it even in the face of disaster.

T. S. BULLOCK'S ENTERPRISE.

A telegram from Jamestown, California, of recent date, says: Today the grade of the branch line of the Sierra railway was completed to Tuletown, five miles north of here. The track will be laid at once, including a spur to the Rayville mine. The company announces its intention of building an aerial tramway from Tuletown to the top of Carson hill across the Stanislaus canyon. The plans call for an elevated roadway four miles in length, with an average height of fifty feet, running in a straight line, irrespective of grade. Cars with a capacity of 1200 pounds will be carried. The motive power will be supplied by an auxiliary cable attached to the cars and propelled by steam power at one end of the line.

The Santa Fe road is making arrangements to transport several detachments of cavalry from Fort Wingate and Fort Apache, in Arizona, to San Francisco. It is presumed the real destination of the soldiers is China, and they will start on their journey as soon as the railroad company can get cars for the transportation of the 400 men and their animals and baggage. A troop of cavalry is now on its way from Jefferson barracks, near St. Louis, to replace the detachment that will leave Fort Wingate.
